Are Your Loans protected if you become disabled?
Would Credit Insurance help protect your family?

You may plan to get a loan to purchase a home, pay for college, or buy a car someday, wouldn't it be great to feel secure that if you were to become disabled your loan would be covered. With so many unexpected illnesses and even death happening these days wouldn't it feel good to know that your loan is taken care of in the event of your death? It's not fun to think about but it's a reality.

We have a solution for all of that! When you open a new loan with us we offer life and disability insurance for the life of your loan. It gives you a piece of mind knowing that in the circumstance of disability or death you will be covered.

It is low cost and is added to your monthly payment so you don't even have to think about it.

If you have any questions please give us a call.
